Establish course goals and learning outcomes
Determine course content and learning materials
Decide what content and materials can be delivered in-class, online or both Consider alignment of materials and assess how students will achieve course goals
Consider technology that supports student learning
Integrate instructional design tips to enhance the learning experience
Implement the redesigned course
Review course based on experience and student feedback
Integrate further modifications and improvements